

Procurement Planning

Unimarket Procurement Planning allows you to ensure staff are fully prepared before they go to market. With it, you can generate a timeline, designate responsibilities, select preferred suppliers and manage any required approvals before sourcing begins.

Optional integration with Unimarket's Guide, Go to Market and Contract Management modules allows you to automate and manage the entire Source-to-Contract cycle on a single platform.

Procurement Planning ensures that every aspect of a new a procurement project is documented, tracked and signed-off, all in compliance with your procurement policies.

- Manage financial, legal and process risk from the outset
- Increase productivity using a single planning, approval and sourcing tool
- Generate assessment forms for buyers conducting high-risk procurement events
- Set up specific timelines for different types of procurement, configured with business rules
- Create checklists for staff at key milestones to ensure actions outside the platform are captured
- Discover and select suppliers to include in the RFx, when integrated with our Go to Market module
- Transfer parameters, rules and other planning information directly to the RFx in the go-to-market phase, as part of a coherent, policy-compliant procurement plan
- Manage by exception with insights and reporting that allow you to focus on key activities

Where can I find out more?

To discuss how Procurement Planning can help your staff to source better, get in touch with your Unimarket Commercial Manager or Account Manager.

Why Unimarket?

Unimarket Procurement Planning is a powerful but easy-to-use solution that has been deployed across many industry sectors. It reduces risk and drives procurement best practice by taking buyers through a standard, compliant pre-sourcing planning and approval process when policy requires.

It allows staff to manage both strategic and operational procurement with the benefit of accelerated process times, while providing visibility and tracking and allowing the finance or procurement team to manage by exception.

“Yarra Valley Water has a solution that has enabled a world class strategic procurement and contract management function.”

Dominique Gibert,
Manager, Procurement & Payables Yarra Valley Water